

Chris Malicki, OHST, CHST, COSS
Risk Control Advisor - Safety

Chris J. Malicki, CHST, OHST, joined Cavignac & Associates in August 2016, bringing with him more than 20 years of construction-related safety experience as well as the professional expertise of a general industry workplace safety consultant. His combination of skill and knowledge uniquely qualifies him for the role of Risk Control Advisor, charged with evaluating clients' operations and developing effective risk and safety management programs for each. His focus is on identifying risks to workers and helping management implement corrective action.

Malicki is certified as an Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA) outreach instructor. He holds accreditations as a Construction Health and Safety Technician (CHST) and Occupational Health and Safety Technologist (OHST). He is President of the American Society of Safety Engineers (ASSE), San Diego Chapter.

Prior to joining Cavignac & Associates, Malicki served as a Safety Manager for the SMART Safety Group in San Diego, where he developed, implemented and maintained safety and risk management systems for construction-related organizations and the general business community. Previous career experience includes having served as a Training Director for Pacific Safety Center.

His construction industry knowledge stems from having been Principal of Southwest Civil Contracting and, before that, Director of Operations for Merritt Construction, both located in San Marcos. As an "A" licensed general contractor, he oversaw all aspects of workplace safety on projects, including highway and street improvements, site infrastructure, pipeline installation, sewer, water, storm drain and landfill construction.

Born and raised in Minneapolis, Minn., Malicki now resides in the San Diego community of Rancho Penasquitos with his wife and son.
